

Supporting Autistic Students in Higher Education For Student Counselling Staff

Do you work in Student Counselling Services in Higher Education?

AsIAm are hosting an online training session for therapists who work with autistic students in Higher education.

The workshop will provide an explanation of Neurodiversity. It will then investigate aspects of Autism. The Therapeutic Relationship between Therapist and the Autistic Student will be explored. Finally, the Supportive Therapeutic Tools for Autistic Students will be provided.

The aim of the workshop is to give the Therapist an overview of Autism, and to gain more confidence in working in the exciting field of Neurodiversity.

When and Where?

22nd October 12-1pm – Online (Zoom) Please sign up with the QR code below. A recording of the session will go to everyone who has registered

Who

Dermot McCarthy (He/Him) will deliver the training session.

Dermot McCarthy is a psychotherapist and an accredited member of the Irish Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy.

In 2018, he set up his own therapy practice Inner Voice. He has over 10 years' experience both professionally and personally in relation to therapy

In 2021 he was recently diagnosed as being autistic, and this diagnosis has greatly enhanced his life both personally and professionally.

Register for the training at the QR code below.

IRELAND'S AUTISM CHARITY